

Welcome to Food for Thought

In this edition we have a look at the recent introduction of calorie labelling and the impact of that on food businesses. With the growth of food businesses since COVID-19, Laura Gray advises on how to make sure your business is set up in the right way to secure longevity. The Ukraine war has had a huge impact on the food sector, which Lucy Easey addresses, while Rebecca Bond provides advice on choosing suitable premises for your food business. Finally Gavin Coull addresses where we are now with the FCA COVID-19 Business Interruption insurance test case, since the Supreme Court's judgement in 2021.

Enjoy the read!

Ed Savory
Partner
Corporate Team
T 01603 756479
M 07814 019934
E Edward-Savory@birketts.co.uk

Featured articles

The introduction of calorie labelling

Regulations that mean cafes, restaurants, takeaways and other food businesses with over 250 employees must display the calorie content of their food on menus.

Read more →

Future food stars

Key considerations for new hospitality ventures.

Read more →

The Ukraine war and its impact on the food sector

Lucy Easey and Ed Savory look at the impact of the Ukraine war on the food sector.

Read more →

Choosing suitable premises to cater for your food business

Rebecca Bond, an Associate in our Commercial Property Team advises.

Read more →

The FCA COVID-19 Business Interruption test case

Insurance Partner, Gavin Coull looks at where we are now.

Read more →

In conversation with Jo Fairley, Green & Black's Co-Founder

For more information on this exclusive event hosted by Ed Savory please contact Ed directly.

Contact Ed →

