Independent Administration Services

Why Birketts?

Birketts is a full service, UK Top 50 law firm. With a rich history of over 160 years, we have built a reputation for delivering high-quality, client-focused legal advice. We understand the unique needs and challenges faced by our clients and we are dedicated to offering tailored solutions that meet their specific requirements, providing next level legal advice.

We advise businesses, government and public sector organisations and individuals in the UK and internationally across four principal practice groups: private client, real estate, corporate services and dispute resolution. We are defined by our next level law proposition. We work with our clients as a proactive partner, horizon scanning and thinking ahead to the changes, challenges or opportunities that they may face.

We are specifically renowned for the strength of our private wealth practice, exhibiting a broad expertise in succession planning, often acting for farmers and landed estate owners, family investment companies and business owners. We pride ourselves on our long-standing tradition of excellence and our commitment to providing top-tier legal services. We have a strong team, with a wealth of experience in acting for many of the largest businesses, farming families and entrepreneurs.

Our next level law approach is also applied to our people. Our collegiate culture means everyone is encouraged to achieve their next level in everything they do. Our lawyers provide highly professional and level-headed advice on probate, inheritance tax, succession planning and much more.

With our ambition to succeed also comes a strong desire to make a positive contribution to the communities we serve and we are committed to delivering the objectives set out in our ESG strategy. Diversity plays an integral part in all that we do, with female partners comprising 41% of our partnership.

Our Independent Administration Service

What is an independent administrator?

An independent administrator is a person or trust corporation appointed to manage the administration of an estate, usually by order of the court.

What are the advantages of appointing an independent administrator?

- Independent administrators are experienced professionals who can efficiently handle estate administrations including inheritance tax filings and navigating the UK probate system, ensuring quicker estate processing and faster distribution to beneficiaries.
- An independent administrator has no personal interest in the estate and must act without conflicts of interest, ensuring the estate is administered according to the testator's wishes and for the benefit of all beneficiaries
- Appointing an independent administrator can significantly reduce stress and tension for beneficiaries, especially during a time of loss, by ensuring professional handling of the estate administration and minimising conflicts among beneficiaries.
- Independent administrators are often appointed after estate disputes and can efficiently resolve lingering issues in-house, especially if supported by a dedicated, specialist disputes team like Birketts' Private Wealth Disputes Team, saving time and money.

When should you appoint an independent administrator?

There are some circumstances where it is advised that you appoint an independent administrator, these include:

- When there is a dispute.
- When an executor is unable to act
- When it is inappropriate for an executor to act
- When an estate is complex
- When there is a conflict between appointed executors
- When an estate is being administered poorly.

“

Lorna Spear is very easy to talk to and listens to my concerns. She is extremely knowledgeable and suggests things that are relevant for me. She is efficient and professional.

How can Birketts help?

Our Private Client Team comprises of more than 100 fee earners who each deal with administering estates, either as the named executor in a will or by instruction from the executors, on a daily basis.

Birketts Trust Corporation

Birketts can either take on the role of independent administrator by the appointment of partners personally or through the appointment of the Birketts Trust Corporation (BTC). The directors of BTC are all partners and legal directors at Birketts across our Private Client Team, allowing for the most appropriate individual and team to be chosen for the case at hand. We will take into account location, facts and your preferences when assigning a case handler to deal with the estate administration.

Recent experience

Birketts' Lorna Spear regularly acts as a court appointed independent administrator and is frequently appointed as an executor by will.

Most recently, Lorna was appointed as independent administrator by the High Court in the case of Lane v Lane [2024] EWHC 275 (Ch).

Other recent experiences include:

- Acting as independent administrator in an estate for two executor siblings who had fallen out, dealing with significant conflicts of interest.
- Taking over the administration of an estate of a deceased landed estate from a firm that were being investigated by the SRA for malpractice.
- Acting as an executor alongside family members where a conflict of interest arose for one of the executors who was also a beneficiary.

Accreditations

Fees and billing

As no two estates are the same, it is difficult to estimate the fees involved with acting as an independent administrator. We therefore charge on a time-spent basis relative to fee-earners' hourly rates. Please see our hourly rates below:

- Partners - £410-£460 plus VAT
- Legal Directors - £340 plus VAT
- Senior Associates - £320 plus VAT
- Associates - £280 plus VAT
- Solicitors - £200 plus VAT
- Trainee Solicitors - £140-£160 plus VAT

Please note that these hourly rates do not apply to the International Private Client Team; further information about their fees can be provided on request.

The amount of time spent working on an estate will be relative to its complexity. We typically advise that our fees are likely to be in the region of 1-3% of the gross value of the estate. This percentage is typically lower for larger estates.

Please rest assured that we strive to allocate all work at the appropriate level to ensure that costs are kept to a minimum. As part of our commitment to transparency, whenever we issue a bill, the beneficiaries will receive a detailed breakdown of the time recorded.
